What is PSHE Education?

PSHE Education is a planned programme of learning that helps children and young people gain the knowledge, understanding and skills they need to manage their lives – both now and in the future.
As part of a whole-school approach, PSHE Education supports pupils to develop the qualities and attributes they need to thrive as individuals, family members and active members of society. This can include learning about:

- Economic wellbeing
- Careers and enterprise education
- Personal safety
- Health and relationships

It is a statutory requirement for schools to teach Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education at Key Stages 3 and 4. Schools also have legal duties to safeguard pupils (Keeping Children Safe in Education, DfE, 2019) and to uphold the Equality Act (2010).

PSHE at Moon Hall

At Moon Hall, we hold a PSHE Day every half term, during which the usual curriculum is suspended so that pupils can immerse themselves fully in their PSHE learning. This dedicated time provides valuable opportunities for children to engage deeply with important themes and develop their understanding in a meaningful way.

We deliver our PSHE curriculum through an adapted version of the Jigsaw Programme. Jigsaw supports all statutory requirements and places children's wellbeing at its heart. As a whole-school approach, it combines a positive philosophy with creative teaching and learning activities, helping pupils develop into compassionate, well-rounded individuals while building their confidence, resilience and capacity to learn.

Our PSHE curriculum is tailored to meet the specific learning needs of our pupils. This includes:

- Pre-teaching key vocabulary
- Adjusting slides and resources to aid understanding
- Delivering content through practical workshops and inviting external speakers

In addition to Jigsaw, we adapt our curriculum to respond to current issues affecting our pupils. For example, when there was an increase in knife crime reported in West Sussex and Surrey, we arranged a workshop with a guest speaker to address the topic directly and appropriately.
